News from the Admissions Office

The Admissions office has been busy going through Strategic Enrollment Management and Program Prioritization. Also, the office has been focusing on keeping prospective students engaged and interested. The continued use of social media such as Instagram and Facebook has kept students updated and reminded of why UW– Superior is a great option!

Call Team!

Call Team has continued to rock out calling prospective students! If any students are interested in being a part of call team, Jacket Job postings will be available Spring 2014.

For further questions contact Ben Mooney (bmooney1@uwsuper.edu) about applications or general information.

Campus Ambassadors

Campus Ambassadors take part in a variety of roles on campus. As official student representatives, Ambassadors take part in events such as the Chancellors Ball, Foundation Dinner, and Commencement. This upcoming month Campus Ambassadors will be attending the Chancellor's Ball, as well as aiding in Winter Commencement. If you, or any students you know of, who may be interested in becoming a Campus Ambassador, application time will be held in Spring 2014. For application details and questions, contact Jordan Appicelli at jappice1@uwsuper.edu.

A Campus Ambassador position opens up great opportunities to build experience, resumes, communication skills, and creating connections!

Two new student positions will be opening in the Spring of 2014. Admissions is currently looking at Call Team Supervisor and a new Executive Director for Campus Ambassadors. Thank you to Carinna Coy for holding these two positions the past year, you have created a warm and welcoming environment that all have enjoyed!
