Conference Location and Accommodations

All conference activities will be held at the Best Western Roundhouse Suites, 891 Massachusetts Ave., Boston, MA, USA. This unusual round building was built in the 1800's. It was used for many different venues before it was transformed into a top-notch all-suite hotel. The Best Western provides guests with a comfortable setting for business and leisure. Some of the amenities and services include: free shuttle service; fitness center, 24 hour business center; fax & photocopy service and complimentary parking for guests. Also complimentary wireless/high-speed Internet access and a deluxe continental breakfast.

Hotel reservations can be made through the Best Western directly at 877-468-3162. You must specify that you are attending the reminiscence conference in order to receive special rates. Guest rates are $149/night + tax and are valid 3 days prior and 3 days following the conference. Reservations must be received on or before Monday, October 17, 2011. To view hotel go to: www.bestwesternboston.com.

Our conference hotel rates have also been extended throughout the GSA (Gerontological Society Association) annual meeting. That meeting location is about one mile away and within the range of our hotel complimentary shuttle service.

Guidelines for Proposed Poster Sessions

Exciting New Poster Session Formats

Please consider submitting a proposal to present a poster as part of a plenary session. All poster sessions must be submitted in a MS PowerPoint format. The abstract will be published in English, Japanese and Spanish along with the slides in English in the conference proceedings book.

Each poster presentation that is selected will be presented in a plenary session grouped into the four poster session tracks listed below. Presenters will have approximately five minutes to review their posters. A conference discussion will make selected comments at the conclusion of the presentation in each track. Questions and answers will follow.

Poster Session Tracks

1. Research in Reminiscence and Life Review:

Presentations should focus on current research issues or problems. May include studies or research that are still in progress. May also include theoretical aspects of reminiscence and life review.

2. The Practice of Reminiscence and Life Review:

Presentations should focus on methods of practicing and applying reminiscence and life review theory within multiple disciplines. Topics may include reminiscence and life review with creative and performing arts, health care, counseling, psychotherapy and other therapy modalities, grief and pastoral care, life narrative and oral history approaches.

3. Educational Approaches:

Presentations should include the incorporation of reminiscence and life review in educational settings from early childhood to post-doctoral programs, in a variety of study, further developing educational programming focusing on reminiscence and life review, inter-generational programming, and other related topics.

4. Volunteer Approaches:

Presentations should include programs and methods involving volunteers in a variety of settings: working with isolated individuals, with older adults encountering physical and mental health problems, as well as programs designed to promote quality of life. Models for the use of reminiscence and life review techniques by individuals, older adults and their family members will also be included.

Abstract Outline: (Provide the following in English)

1. Title
2. 100 word abstract
3. A 30 word professional biography with contact information to be used in the final program if the paper is accepted.
4. PowerPoint Poster session
5. Poster session track number

DEADLINE AND CONTACT INFORMATION

Proposals must include all five sections of the abstract outline (see above) and must be sent via email by May 31, 2011, in order to be included in the final conference brochure. Submit complete copies to BOTH jkunz@uwsuper.edu AND dsislo@uwsuper.edu. Please call 715-394-8170 if unable to access email.

Please note that presenters must pay the special conference fee.
