

Invitation to join UW-Superior's

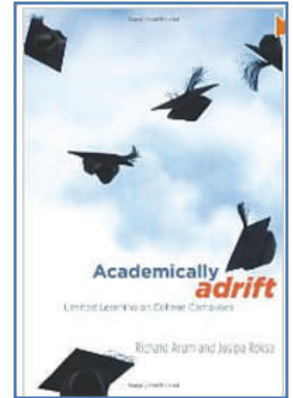

CETL Book Club for Fall 2011

You are cordially invited to the CETL Book Club for Fall 2011 focusing on assessment of student learning and featuring the book

Academically Adrift: Limited Learning on College Campuses

by Richard Arum and Josipa Roksa

(2011, University of Chicago Press)

Review: “Combined with students’ limited effort and great disparities among students, Arum and Roska’s findings raise questions that should have been raised long ago about who profits from college and what colleges need to do if they are to benefit new groups of students. In this era of college for all, their analysis refocuses our attention on high education’s fundamental goals.”

- James Rosenbaum, Northwestern University

The CETL book club will meet on the following Mondays:

October 3, October 17 and October 31

from 4:30 – 6:00 pm in the CETL Seminar Room – Swenson Hall 2074

Eri Fujieda (Assessment Coordinator; Associate Professor in Sociology) will facilitate the discussion.

Richard Arum is Professor of Sociology and Education at New York University, and Program Director of Educational Research for the Social Science Research Council. He also successfully led recent efforts to organize educational stakeholders in New York City to create the Research Alliance for New York City Schools, focusing on ongoing evaluation and assessment research to support public school improvements.

Josipa Roksa is Assistant Professor of Sociology at the University of Virginia, with a courtesy appointment in the Curry School of Education there. She is also a Fellow of the National Forum on the Future of Liberal Education.

Editorial review and biographies excerpted from www.Amazon.com

Reserve your place in the book club now by contacting Emily Levings at CETL (cetl@uwsuper.edu). Registration closes Friday, September 9, 2011.

Each member of the book club will receive a complimentary paperback of the book during the last week in September. Book club membership is limited to 12, so reserve your place as soon as possible. Your commitment to attending all 3 sessions is appreciated. Feel free to bring food and beverage to the meetings.

CETL
Center for Excellence in Teaching and Learning