The 2014-15 season was another season of notable performances for Yellowjacket Athletics. Sophomore Gio Rodriguez was named the Co-WIAC Player of the Year and was one of four Yellowjackets to garner All-WIAC 1st Team honors.

Sally Linzmeier enjoyed the greatest season in the history of UW-Superior women’s basketball. Linzmeier set school records for career points, career field goals made, and career free throws made, adding to her school record for career steals set in 2013-14. Linzmeier was named WIAC Player of the Year for the second straight year, All-WIAC 1st Team for the third straight year and to the WIAC All-Defensive Team for the fourth straight year. Linzmeier was named All-American by four different organizations and became the first Yellowjacket ever to be named Capital One Academic All-American by CoSIDA.

The women’s basketball team claimed the WIAC regular season championship for the first time in school history and reached the WIAC playoff championship game for the second year in a row, falling just short of a bid into the NCAA tournament.

Junior Kenny McGee qualified for the 2015 NCAA Indoor Track and Field Championships after placing fifth in the WIAC in the long jump. At the national meet McGee placed 14th in the nation.

When the track and field season shifted outdoors, Vicki Vinokur qualified for the NCAA Outdoor Track and Field Championships, placing 10th in the nation in the discus.

During the 2013-14 year UW-Superior set a record with 169 student-athletes named to the WIAC Scholastic Honor Roll by earning a grade point average of at least 3.0 on a 4-0 scale.

The Yellowjacket athletics department as a whole received the WIAC All-Academic award, which goes to institutions whose student-athletes have a grade point average equal to, or greater than, the grade point average of the overall student body.

Collectively, Yellowjacket student-athletes compiled a 3.061 grade point average, marking the eighth straight year and 12th time in the last 14 years that Yellowjacket student-athletes were honored.

UW-Superior is the home of Yellowjacket Athletics, which sponsors seven varsity sports for men and eight varsity sports for women. Yellowjacket student-athletes receive an exemplary experience, both in athletics and in the classroom, and in 2015 they will move into the Upper Midwest Athletic Conference (UMAC) where they will continue to build on the rich history that UW-Superior has built in more than a century of competition.
