Dear Yellowjackets,

This email is a follow up to Chancellor Wachter's earlier announcement about our plan for Spring 2020.

We are completely committed to YOU and your success. We've worked hard this last week to continue to create a network of care for you to use as we all transition in response to COVID-19. This email provides an overview of how to connect with student services. Please read this email in its entirety.

Here is what you need to know:

- Spring 2020 Online Courses: Courses that were originally online at the beginning of the semester will continue as regularly scheduled. If you have any questions, please contact your instructor first. For additional questions, contact cetl@uwsuper.edu.
- Face-to-Face/Hybrid or other Courses Moving to Canvas: All face-to-face/hybrid or other classes in Spring 2020 are moving to Canvas, our learning management system. Your instructors will be in touch with you through your UW-Superior email before March 27 to explain how your course will proceed. Additional information will be emailed to you from Maria Cuzzo, Interim Provost and Vice Chancellor for Academic Affairs.
- Residence Hall Students: You will be receiving a follow up message shortly.
- International Students: You will be receiving a follow up message shortly.

Most UW-Superior student services continue to be available, including:

- Academic Advising: To schedule an appointment, please contact your primary advisor.
- Athletics: Coaches will follow up with their student-athletes.
