Dear Campus Community,

For those of you planning to travel over spring break, we want to make sure you have the information you need to get to your destination and home again, particularly in light of recent developments with COVID-19 (Coronavirus).

If you are traveling to other countries for spring break, be prepared to provide documentation of recent travel history when you re-enter the U.S., as you could potentially be barred from re-entering if you cannot prove that you have not recently been to China. Consider getting travel insurance in case conditions change in the area you are planning to travel. Also be mindful of current travel restrictions. For the latest information on travel restrictions, visit the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) website.

For those of you that will be traveling within the U.S., please note that it is still Flu season and it’s always best to take some extra precautions while traveling, such as:

- Take a wet wipe to your airplane, train or bus seat and clean off your area.
- Take vitamins and medications that will keep your immune system healthy.
- Wash your hands thoroughly and constantly with soap and water.
- Turn off the fan above your airplane/train/bus seat to keep the air from circulating to your face.

Additionally, consider getting travel insurance in case conditions change in the area you are planning to travel.

For those students who have decided not to travel and will be on campus over the break, here is some information about what will be open on campus over break.
