

Augustin Tegaboue Tchouassi, Class of 2015

Recipient of three scholarships, including the Chemistry Alumni Scholarship, which is funded by Super Donor Periodic Table element purchases

Augustin is a long way from his hometown in Central Africa, but he knew UW-Superior would be a great fit. “An alumnus, who turns out to be my elder brother, recommended UW-Superior to me due to the valued one-on-one interaction of faculty with students, and various research opportunities in my area of interest.”

The chemistry major credits faculty and staff for helping him achieve his goals. “I came to the United States in order to achieve my dream to help improve health by developing new effective and available drugs. The genuine concern all the faculty and staff have with the success of UW-Superior students within college life and beyond is amazing.”
