

Instruction

UW-Superior's Master of Science in Education – Instruction degree program enables Pre-K-16 teachers and educational professionals to strengthen their teaching knowledge and practices in all 10 areas of the Wisconsin Standards for Teacher Preparation and Licensure.

Program Options

This 30-credit program provides 21 credits in core courses, and nine elective credits in an area of concentration. These individually designed, advisor-approved elective courses are perfect for supporting each student's professional development goals. Students complete a portfolio and research project as a capstone experience.

Opportunities

Graduate courses in are offered various areas of instruction and then electives in counseling, educational administration, special education, and art therapy. These make excellent elective choices for teachers and education professionals.

Convenience

The MSE – Instruction degree is designed with working teachers and educational professionals in mind, providing maximum flexibility in delivery and scheduling courses. Students can complete the program with two years of online study.

Faculty

UW-Superior prides itself on its dedicated faculty who are committed to their students' success. Students in the MSE – Instruction program enjoy face-to-face, personalized advisement with professors who know them by name.

Facilities

The program is housed in Swenson Hall where students enjoy access to state-of-the-art classrooms with modern technology and inviting work and common areas that enhance the overall learning experience.

Program Highlights

- Maximum flexibility for working educators
- Program can be completed in two years of online study
- Advisement is personalized and completed with program professors
- Students can take individual courses for career development without being enrolled in the master's program
- Graduate-level transfer courses, continuing education courses, and UW-Superior courses may be counted among degree electives

For more information, contact:

Graduate Studies
gradstudy@uwsuper.edu
715-394-8295
uwsuper.edu/graduate

Contact
Dr. Suzanne C. Griffith
sgriffit@uwsuper.edu
715-394-8316

