The Office of Multicultural Affairs has received information about the UW-System's 2013 American Multicultural Student Leadership Conference which will be held March 8-9, 2013 at UW-River Falls. The annual American Multicultural Student Leadership Conference (AMSLC) provides an opportunity for students of color and economically-disadvantaged students to come together and engage in lively discussions, hear inspiring speakers, develop networks, and celebrate their achievements in order to foster leadership and excellence.

At AMSLC, students will:

- * Present their work in undergraduate research, scholarship and creative expression.
- * Gain knowledge and skills to prepare for future opportunities.
- * Engage with others within and across cultures.

Student presentations consist of written works, posters, exhibits, or performances in the following categories:

- * Creative Writing
- * Visual Arts
- * Performance
- * Research

We would like to encourage all students to participate and submit in the research/visual arts categories.

Registration payment: OMA will pay for New Freshman, Transfer students, and for returning students who submit their presentation abstract in one of the top four categories (creative writing, visual arts, performance, and research). Please submit an additional copy of your presentation abstract to Ivy Vainio no later than 12:00 pm on February 6, 2013.

If you are a UW-Superior student and are interested in attending and/or presenting at this conference please review the links and student sponsorship information below and/or contact Ivy Vainio at 715-394-8415. UW-Superior registration deadline in February 6, 2013 by 12:00 pm.
